Sobs and Moans Burst From the Breasts of Egyptians.

Apprehension That Disaster Will Overtake the Dongola Expedition.

Great Uprising and Rallying of the Derivishes—The Green Flag is Up and the Holy War Declared—Gen. Kitchener Yawns for Fresh Military Glory.

New York, April 8.—A dispatch to the Herald from Cairo says: It can not be denied that there exists in Cairo a strong apprehension that disaster will soon overtake the head of the Dongola expedition. Merchants here who have business relations with the Sudanese report that they have information of a great uprising and rallying of the derivishes in and around Dongola. They confirm the report that the green flag is up and the holy war declared. Their opinion is that 50,000 men will soon be ready to intercept the march of the Anglo-Egyptian army, if the plan of pushing beyond Akasheh is persisted in.

Gen. Kitchener is known to be yearning for fresh military glory. Aggressive and self-willed, it is feared he will fall into the error recently committed by Gen. Barattieri in Abyssinia. He is carefully fortifying as he advances, and in the event of an ordinary reverse he may be able to hold out until English succor arrives.

An American gentleman just down from Wady Halfa says he met several thousand Egyptian recruits and railway laborers going forward, hundreds of whom were moaning and sobbing like bereaved children. No dependence can be placed in these men.

The preliminary skirmishing so far has given some confidence to the Egyptian troops. The policy of the Sudanese is evidently to draw the invading army as far from its base this summer as possible, so that when the main assault is delivered, retreat for it will mean slaughter.

Many well-informed people here express the belief that the fate of Hicks Pasha awaits the Serdar's column. The derivishes are better armed and better prepared to fight than when they checked Lord Wolseley's advance. The English as a rule push the idea of defeat, but they are all extremely anxious. It is feared that the troubles in Matabeleland may embarrass the English government and weaken the support of the Dongola expedition, which must soon be forthcoming. The derivishes are very active in the rear of the Egyptian column and great difficulty is experienced already in keeping up telegraphic communication.

X-RAYS

A year ago, were an unknown quantity.

ELIZABETH, N. J., April 8.—Daniel McGinlay, mate on the Singer Manufacturing Co.'s steamer, Edwin Clark, was killed by a fast train on the Pennsylvania railroad at 9:05 o'clock Wednesday morning while crossing the track at the station with his bride. They were coming from St. Patrick's church, where the nuptials had taken place, and were going to take a train for a wedding tour. His wife was saved by truckmen, who dragged her from the track, but McGinlay stepped too close to the station gate. He was thrown 40 feet to the street below. His bride was Miss Kate Galligan, of No. 210 Clark Place, Elizabethport.

The killing was ordered by Trustee John S. Duss, of the Economite society, and Meat Inspector Albert Edwards. The cattle were in bad condition. The diseased parts were preserved for careful examination. Every milk cow in the Sewickly valley will be inoculated at once in an effort to stay the growth of the dangerous affliction.

Costly Fire at Savannah, Ga.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 8.—At an early hour Wednesday morning fire broke out on the second floor of the Savannah Grocery Co.'s five-story building. The firemen thought they had the fire extinguished without much loss except by smoke and water, but at 3 o'clock the smoldering flames burst out again and the building and stock was entirely destroyed. The adjoining building was badly damaged. The loss on Savannah Grocery Co.'s stock is put at $115,000; insurance about $100,000, half of which is placed in New York city.

LIVELY TIMES

At the Election for Aldermen in the Windy City.

Several Riots at the Polling Places Quelled by the Police.

One Man in the Levee District Shot in the Leg, Amputation May Be Necessary—Another Confronted With Fists and Revolvers—Several Are Arrested.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Blood was spilled at the election in the First ward, and the police were called on to quell several incipient riots at the polling places among the followers of the aldermanic candidates. The levee section of the ward also provided its usual quota of lesser brawls, with fists, rocks and clubs as weapons and whisky as accessory in every case. There were disturbances among the Italians of the Nineteenth ward, where the aldermanic contestants strove with beer, whisky and money to influence voting. Fist fights and ejections of trespassers on the polling places by the police were reported in the Second, Eighteenth and Twenty-second wards. The police quickly restored order whenever an outbreak occurred, and on the whole, considering the bitterness of the fight against "gang" aldermen, the election was not a discredit to the city. The open violation of the law against saloons selling liquor during the voting hours made most of the trouble for the police.

The most serious outbreak occurred in the levee district near the polling place at 400 Dearborn street. Joseph Grogan, a clerk for the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad, who was not in any way connected with the rioters, was shot in the leg and the bones so shattered that amputation may be necessary. He was going to his office when a gang of colored and white men engaged in a fight and half a thousand of the same class of men were quickly on the spot. An unknown colored man drew a revolver and fired six bullets into the mob, one of them striking Grogan, who fell to the sidewalk. The fighters and the man who used the gun were pursued by officers but all escaped.

At the same place the factions voting for "Bath House John" Coughlin, the present alderman, and George Williams, his opponent, came in conflict with fists and revolvers, one man receiving several stunning blows with a weapon. A riot call was turned in by the officers on duty and numerous arrests were made. Close upon this disturbance came another in the same part of the ward. Sol Van Praag, a deputy United States marshal, who is a character in the ward, was attacked by a gang of Coughlin hangers and a Williams crowd rushed to the rescue, precipitating a free fight, in which shots were fired. No one was hit, and the police captured two of the shooters.

The first blood shed was just after the opening of the polls at 192 Washington street, First ward. Wm. Martin, a Williams worker, shot Wm. Hickey, a Coughlin man, in the arm and the trouble led to a small riot. The police arrested Hickey and a gang of imported slugs tried to rescue him. The prisoner was being taken away when a riot call brought a force of detectives from the city hall and the mob was driven back.

MUSICAL CONVENTION.

The Competition of Army and Navy Bands With Civic Organizations Protested Against.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The most important business of Tuesday's session of the Musical convention was the presentation of the report of the committee on army and naval bands. The report as read protests against government bands competing with civilian organizations, and discusses at length why such competition should not be allowed.

Petitions embodying the reasons given by the report against government bands competing with civilian organization will be drawn and presented to Secretaries Lamont and Herbert. A memorial on the subject, signed by all members of the order will be presented to congress and a special committee will be appointed to lay the matter before the president. The league has been striving for years to have this matter righted and will make a special effort at this session to obtain this end. Wednesday the members of the league will be received by President Cleveland.

Agricultural Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The conferees on the agricultural appropriation for the coming fiscal year reached an agreement Tuesday. As passed by the house, the bill carried $3,215,392. The senate increased this amount by $115,260. The senate conferees agreed to recede from amendment carrying $78,120, leaving the bill as agreed to, appropriating $3,302,792, or about $1,000 less than the amount for the current fiscal year. The items of $13,730 for the division of seeds, and of $65,000 for the publication of the report on dairy farming are the more important of those stricken from the bill in conference.

THROUGH A BRIDGE.

A Steam Excavator, With an Eighty-Foot Span of a Railway Bridge, Goes Into the River—One Life Lost.

TOLEDO, O., April 8.—At an early hour Wednesday morning a ponderous steam excavator, pushed along by a light engine, jumped the track while crossing the Wheeling & Lake Erie railway bridge over the Maumee river, and tearing through the iron work of the structure carried the whole of an 80-foot span into the river with it. The engine remained on the track. James Marshall, of Ironville, a switchman riding on the excavator, was carried down by it and drowned. His body has not been recovered. He leaves a widow and four children. The property loss is estimated at $7,000. The bridge was erected in 1882 at a cost of $250,000. The traffic of the road will not be interfered with. President Blair says arrangements have been made with the Ann Arbor and Pennsylvania companies, with the latter for the use of its bridge. In the meantime a temporary span will be erected, and the road expects to be running as usual within three days. President Blair says that the engine and excavator were backing up across the bridge at a high rate of speed when the accident occurred, in contravention of the company's rules.

CLEVELAND, O., April 8.—Five thousand union men employed in the building trades of Cleveland will demand on May 1 an eight-hour day. The tradesmen who will make the demand are the carpenters, plasterers, stonemasons, bricklayers, mortar mixers and hod carriers.
